ARCHITECT'S SKETCH of the proposed $3 million Madison Middle school (junior high) which is to be built in Maeras Industrial Park near the Madison High School. Ground will be broken for the project Monday, Nov. 28, in ceremonies beginning at 10 a.m. The architect's view of the new building, which will replace the present Madison Junior High School and terminate the need of split shifts, was prepared by Henry Gabriel, Granite City architect handling the planning for the new school.

School groundbreaking set

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Ground-breaking ceremonies to begin construction of the $3 million new middle school (junior high) in Madison will be held at 10 a.m. Monday, Nov. 28. The new school is to be built on McCasland Drive east of Farish Street in the Maeras Industrial Park, about three blocks north of Madison High School. The Madison School Board Thursday night instructed School Superintendent John Paishoff to send letters of invitation to everyone playing a role in the development of the project.

"We particularly want the people who voted to build the new school to know they are welcome, and I believe State Senator Sam Vadalabene should turn the first shovel of dirt. He really has done a lot for us," Frank Eaves, board president, said. The board unanimously agreed with Eaves. When completed, tentatively before September 1978, the school will replace the present junior high school on Third Street. Tentative plans call for it to be razed and the area perhaps converted into a park. The new school will bring to a halt the existing shift program that has been considered undesirable from the standpoint of educational effectiveness. (Continued on Page 10)

3 competing transit plans

During November and December, three candidates are vying for a 15-year term as this metropolitan area's mass transit system. Just as in most public elections, the candidates have identified issues and developed strategies for solving them. The issue in this election and the campaign platform of all three candidates is... providing safe, reliable, economical public transportation for the region's residents.

The three candidates, an all-bus system, a freeway bus system, and a light rail (modern trolley) system, have been endorsed as the most feasible alternative transit systems for this region from among a field of office-seekers, which included rapid rail transit (heavy rail), commuter rail and others. In an early upset (March 1976), heavy rail was determined too expensive, over-designed, and lacking in public support. It was subsequently eliminated from competition. However, the study for that proposed system led to the present program, which is seeking ways to improve the region's public transportation (Continued on Page 10)

Farewell dinner for Surbey

The two worship services — at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. — on Sunday, Nov. 27, will close out the 23-year pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Paul R. Surbey at St. John United Church of Christ, 2601 Namecki Road. A farewell family-style pot luck dinner is being planned for that evening at 5:30. All members of the congregation and friends will be welcome. Each family attending the dinner is to bring a covered dish, salad or dessert. The Surbey family arrived in Granite City in January 1954. In 1955, the $225,000 educational building was completed and dedicated. In the same year, over 100 adult new members were received into the fellowship of St. John Evangelical and Reformed Church. That year, the church council voted to inaugurate dual worship ser-

Pre-Thanksgiving service in Madison

The third and final Thanksgiving service planned by the Quad-City Ministerial Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First United Presbyterian Church, 1643 Third St., Madison. A Thanksgiving message will be delivered by the Rev. Charlotte Hotopy Zachary, host pastor. The Rev. Edward Weston, minister at the Madison United Methodist Church, will offer special prayers.

The combined choirs of the United Methodist Church of Madison, the United Methodist Church of Venice and the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church of Venice will present a musical program. All schools, both public and parochial, will be dismissed Wednesday at the close of classes for the holiday weekend and will report for regular classes on Monday. Most stores and business offices as well as state and federal offices will be closed Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving. The city hall in Granite City will be closed Thursday and Friday to give employees a four-day holiday. City hall workers several years ago exchanged the Lincoln's birthday holiday for the Friday following Thanksgiving to provide the longer holiday.

Delay seen in forming Demo Primary slate

Recommendations from weekend screening discussions will be presented here at 7 tonight to the executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee. But some decisions are likely to be delayed, the Press-Record was told today. Much of the focus is on the office of Sheriff John Maeras, whose department has been studied by a federal grand jury in Springfield. Maeras formerly was county treasurer, an office from which George Musso is believed to be retiring.

Party leaders insisted today that the issue remains unresolved. It was indicated that the only person who attended to seek endorsement for sheriff was Democrat James Estes, a former Chouteau Township highway commissioner who works for the sheriff department. James Chapman is serving as acting secretary of the screening unit. James Augustine of Livingston was interviewed as a possible county treasurer candidate, sources reported. Chapman declined to name those interviewed.

Complicating the outlook of the organization of precinct committeemen and other party members is the announced candidacy of Emil Toffant of Madison for sheriff.

A retired state police district commander, Toffant will run independently and is given a good chance of winning the nomination next March.

Meanwhile, Robert Bibby of Troy, an agent of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, told a gathering of 600

Feralloy may open by spring

Construction of a new steel processing plant in Granite City will get under way as soon as financing procedures can be cleared, and possibly will begin operations as early as next April, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Press-Record following a meeting with officials of Feralloy Corp.

City ordinances for issuance of industrial revenue bonds to help finance the new plant are expected to be presented soon to the Granite City Council, possibly in its regular meeting Tuesday night, the mayor said. Council members already have approved a memorandum of intent to issue $800,000 worth of industrial bonds, but Schuler said it is possible the total bond issue will be more than $1 million because of company plans to install some units of

Shaw urges closer high school-college links on curriculum

Cooperation that will produce an articulated general education curriculum "from beginning to end" was urged by President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as he discussed major educational trends last week at the annual meeting of Madison County School Administrators.

Addressing the group at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, Dr. Shaw said, "No longer can we continue with a 'layer cake' mentality. Cooperation must evolve between colleges and all the rest of our schools."

"As we respond to the urgent demands that we do a better job of teaching basic skills, we must emphasize continuity and transition between lower and upper levels. Integration will take on a new meaning — not racial or ethnic, but curricular."

The president said SIUE will use both basic and innovative approaches to adjust to trends in education while trying to provide the best possible educational opportunities.

—Continuing education for adults.
 —Emphasis on accountability.
 —Innovation from within.

Resurrection of emphasis on basic skills.

Citing the median age of SIUE students as being above 24 — and predicting that within five years, more than half of the university's students will be part-time — Dr. Shaw said, "Many citizens are discovering there may still be more to the world to learn. Thus, we see a much stronger involvement in what is referred to as continuing education."

On the subject of accountability, the president said there is a new spirit of evaluation of performance at the level of higher education: "It's no longer a simple matter of giving and getting course grades."

Describing the new character of innovation, Dr. Shaw observed that "it now has a better, more internal focus."

Regarding the fourth trend, he said, "We are returning emphasis on the basic values of reading with understanding, writing with clarity, and measuring with accuracy."

The president outlined some specific steps his administration is taking. "First of all," he said, "we are taking SIUE to the people. In stretching our thinking, we will extend the perimeters of our campus."

"Our scheduling will become more convenient and flexible. To shorten the long lines which have become the bane of everyone's existence, we will conduct registration by mail. There will be special seminars, conferences, and retreats on weekends."

Dr. Shaw pointed to the university's new bachelor of arts program in liberal arts, which allows the student to tailor studies to interests and needs. He said the offering should be especially attractive to "mature" adults, and he revealed that one in four students currently attending the university is over 35.

The president also referred to the Open University program, which provides courses on television coordinated to the individual needs of the person. And he said he believes credit should be given for knowledge gained from personal experience.

"By using carefully designed examinations to measure competency, we can decide whether we should give credit or not," Dr. Shaw said. "Experience outside our walls should count for what it is worth."

Declaring there are 17 million adults in "adult" learning outside higher education, the president said that in 1975, a recession year, the nation's 7,500 largest private employers spent over $2 billion on employee education — as much as the annual total in recent years of all contributions and grants to all U.S. colleges and universities from all sources.

At least one out of eight of the 32 million employees of these firms took part in some formal, off-the-job education or training while under company sponsorship, Dr. Shaw said, as he suggested that "perhaps business has something to tell education about doing a better job."

"Can we explore partnership roles in this regard?"

"With dialogue, can we discover whether we are more cost-efficient? Let's approach this with open minds — but, by all means, let's approach it," he urged.

The Shaw administration is developing evaluation models for administrative performance, faculty, programs, and services both within the university and in the community.

"Everyone should be mature enough to have his professional performance subjected to objective judgment," the president said. "All administrators will be evaluated annually, and systematic ways of assessing programs and services are going into effect."

"Sabbaticals and development leaves for our academic staff will be structured so that professional and institutional needs will mesh. Whatever retooling is necessary, we will find ways to accomplish it."

Referring to his "back to the basics" emphasis, Dr. Shaw said, "All schools must respond to the demand to upgrade their standards and tighten their requirements."

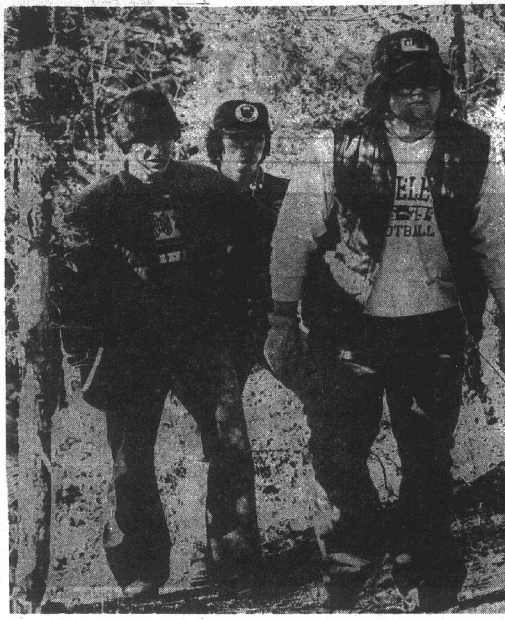

"Less emphasis should be placed on standards of admission and more concern directed toward developing and demonstrating competency in students."

"The basic skills will remain indispensable to a nation that hopes to keep its freedom. Suppleness and discipline of mind, discrimination of taste, and appreciation of excellence are the qualities of a civilized society."

Dr. Shaw called attention to the local university's first woman vice-president, Dr. Rita Frijters, as he emphasized "the emergent role of women in our society."

"Those who cannot imagine that the job of vice-president of business affairs can be filled by a woman will have great difficulty doing business with SIUE. I am willing to bet that most will adjust."

Expressing confidence in the future, and his determination to make SIUE the best of its kind, Dr. Shaw said, "The process in which the university has grown has given us the structural flexibility to renew ourselves successfully. Whatever the dangers, I would contend that the challenges we are currently facing are more humanely promising than ever before."

'Preparedness' tips for Thanksgiving travelers

"With Thanksgiving travel ahead for many families, the International Association of Chiefs of Police is making its annual effort to remind motorists to plan holiday trips carefully," Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said today.

A major problem, according to Veizer is that Thanksgiving trips often take motorists into areas hit early by winter storms and for which drivers aren't prepared.

For advance warnings, the chief recommended that motorists keep alert for National Weather Service bulletins. A flexible schedule should be planned in case dangerous weather warnings are issued.

Other recommended "preparedness" tips include: Ready your emergency equipment — make sure the trunk contains things you need if a storm does catch you on the road: tire chains, booster cables, a tow chain, and other winter equipment that could save your and your family's lives.

Ready your vehicle — have a reputable mechanic safety check your car and correct any deficiencies — the heater, defroster system, anti-freeze, brakes, tires, lights, windshield wipers and washers.

Ready yourself — plan a sensible schedule with plenty of rest before and during your trip. Plan routes carefully to avoid periods of heavy traffic.

Driver injured

Robert Lutes Jr., 16, of Rural Route One, Box 422, Granite City was injured when his auto skidded on wet pavement and collided with the auto of Douglas Rankin, East St. Louis, on Route 162 at the railroad crossing east of Maryville Road, last week.

Lutes suffered a cut in his forehead and abrasions to his right cheek and left knee. X-rays were taken at St. Elizabeth Hospital and he was released.

"The police will be out in force to keep traffic moving smoothly," Veizer added, "but only good planning by motorists will save the day if the holiday weather turns bad."

Burglary at Upper Level

Access to the Upper Level, 1800a State St., apparently was gained by climbing on the roof of an adjoining building and breaking a window near the top of the tavern's interior staircase, Joe Stennett, the owner, said in reporting the burglary at 8:35 a.m. Friday.

Two turntables and covers, worth $150 each, and two car radios for the equipment, valued at $78 each, were taken, along with an undetermined amount of cash from the foosball tables and a pinball machine.

The coin box to an electronic trap-shooting machine was removed by the intruder, but later was recovered in a tavern parking lot in East Granite.

Losing those extra pounds not as simple as it appears

(American Medical Association)
There's no doubt about it. Many of us are too fat. And almost everyone who is too fat would like to slim down to average size for his height and build. Many women would like to be on the skinny side. Most physicians consider obesity an important factor in personal health. It is common. It is associated with increased sickness and death rates, notably in respect to heart, circulatory, kidney and metabolic disorders as well as surgical and obstetrical complications. Obesity can be successfully treated to help control the associated medical conditions.

The evidence for generally adverse health effects from obesity seems too massive and too consistent to ignore. Okay. So we need to lose weight. It should be simple. Everyone knows that all it takes is to cut down on the calories. Unfortunately it usually isn't simple.

Taking fewer calories than are needed seems to be within the theoretical capability of most of us. Yet, results suggest that this is difficult and often not achieved. Long-term observations indicate poor success for most dieters.

An important factor in overweight is psychological. Psychological factors may help cause overweight, or help to maintain it.

Seldom is psychiatric consultation required. The family doctor, the internist, the pediatrician usually can provide suitable guidance and support as part of the weight reduction program.

The physician's aim is to prod and reinforce our will to lose weight, to help us be so determined to trim off excess pounds that we will stick to the reducing regime.

The physician may prescribe drugs at first, as a crutch to help us get started. These can reduce the appetite, promote a feeling of well being, add bulk in the stomach, eliminate excess fluids. They can, at best, offer only temporary help.

They postpone the day when facts must be faced, when we finally make up our minds that we must change our eating habits to keep our weight under control.

WEEKEND PAPER DRIVE. St. Mary's School will conduct a paper drive Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4, it was announced Friday. A truck bed will be parked next to the school building and residents are asked to place papers, magazines and books, tied in bundles, into the truck. The school is at Tenth and Lee streets, Madison.

May reactivate State Park auxiliary police

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis and Township Trustee W. Lee Adams met last week in State Park Place with about a dozen persons interested in reactivating the State Park Auxiliary Police Department. About three men are interested in serving as volunteer police, but those present were concerned about the expense of operating the department. Insurance alone for the one police car is about $1,500 per year.

Davis pledged the township will use revenue sharing grant funds to aid the department by paying for gasoline, oil and maintenance of the squad car.

but said a legal opinion indicates the township can not use the federal funds to pay for insurance.

Those present were requested to try to determine how the department can raise money for insurance and then to call for another meeting with township officials.

The department's car, which was purchased with a township grant, is being stored by the township until it can be determined whether the department can reactivate. The Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Volunteer police both have indicated an interest in acquiring the State Park car.

Poster contest winners

Twelve area students are winners of the Thrift Poster Contest sponsored by the Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association. It was announced last week.

First prize winner of the category for third and fourth grades was Ann Zikovich, St. Margaret Mary School; Tina Claggett, Louis Baer School; second prize, and Carol Young, Louis Baer School, third.

Fifth and sixth grade first-prize winner was Beth Ann Warnecke, St. Margaret Mary School; Holly Lambert, St. Margaret Mary School, second prize, and Linda Kamachuk, St. Margaret Mary School, third prize.

First prize in the seventh and eighth grade category was Dawn Barlock, Grigsby Junior High; Lisa Rea, Grigsby Junior High, second, and David Becherer, St. Elizabeth School, third. Madison High School took all awards in the high school category with Frank Eckhardt, first; Fred Waters, second, and Ed L. Branch, third.

The first place winners in each of the four categories now become eligible to compete for cash awards totaling $1,300 in the statewide contest sponsored by the Illinois Savings and Loan League.

The theme, "A People Who Save, Live Better," dealt with the contributions savings make to a better life and nation.

"The contest gives aspiring young artists the chance to display their artistic talents in a poster as well as to help instill in young people the importance of thrift," A. H. Froemling, president of Madison County Federal, said.

Eugene Alassi, administrative art consultant to the Granite City School District, was the judge in the contest, and Mrs. Marilyn Harris, assistant secretary of Madison County Federal, was the local co-ordinator.

Workshop on death, dying

A workshop on death and dying will be held at SIUE Nov. 30 for nurses wishing to expand their knowledge in the field of health care delivery, according to Betty Boyd Walker, director of the Continuing Education Program in the SIUE School of Nursing.

Sessions will meet on the second floor of the University Center. Registration for the one-day course costs $9.50, which includes lunch.

Participants will examine their own attitudes toward death and dying and the importance of these attitudes in the care of dying. They will also increase their knowledge of current issues in clinical practices and theories, including those of Dr. Kubler-Ross.

Bossio Issue on later agenda

Discussion of the dismissal of Gary Bossio as director of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois was not a part of the meeting of the Southern Illinois Chiefs' of Police Association at Carbondale, but was a discussion on the bus enroute to that meeting.

A previous article had indicated the issue was discussed with Mearl Justus, chief of police of Cahokia and MEGS board chairman, during the chiefs' association meeting. It wasn't, but it will be discussed during a MEGS meeting in the near future, officials said.

Juvenile faces 10 charges after chase

A 16-year-old youth in his father's pickup truck, believed taken without permission, led officers from three police departments on a chase from National and Cardinal avenues in East Granite City to the MAL Landfill property just west of the canal bridge on old Chain of Rocks Road and south of Interstate 270, at 3:30 a.m. Friday.

Burglary at confectionery

About 25 cartons of cigarettes were stolen from the rear storeroom of Lehne's Confectionery, 2501 E. 24th St., between 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

An employee reported hearing a noise in the back room and checked, but did not notice anything wrong. At 9:50 p.m. Sunday, it was discovered that the rear screen door had been cut and the cigarettes were missing.

The cut in the screen was just large enough for a hand to reach through and unlatch the screen door. The rear door had been left open to allow air in the building.

Mrs. Patsy Tanner, 55, of 1322 Edwardsville Road, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 3:35 p.m. Friday suffering a dislocated right knee and pain in the left knee.

Mrs. Tanner reportedly approached a Madison police car which was answering a traffic accident call at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue.

According to Madison police, Mrs. Tanner told the officer she had just been in an minor accident.

The police officer told her she would take the report and pulled forward to park the squad car.

The officer reported he saw in his rear view mirror that the woman had fallen to the pavement.

"There is no indication that the police car struck her," Police Chief Donald Bridick said.

"I am not sure if she hurt herself or just why she fell. The officer did not hear the auto strike anything and there was no sign of any kind that the police car struck her," Bridick said.

License plates at four banks starting Dec. 1

Over-the-counter sale of 1978 passenger auto license plates in Illinois financial institutions will begin Thursday, Dec. 1, Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon has announced.

Dixon also reminded motorists that Dec. 1 is the first day the new plates may be displayed legally on vehicles.

A total of 412 banks will sell license plates over-the-counter this year, including the First National Bank in Madison, American Heritage Bank of Granite City, First Granite City National Bank and Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Financial institutions sold 2,322,561 sets of plates last year, nearly half the passenger plate figure, which eased the workload of processing applications received in Springfield and sending plates by mail.

Dixon emphasized that pre-printed renewal applications, mailed to all registered car owners this summer, should be used when purchasing 1978 plates over-the-counter. Normalization is not required.

Treated at hospital

Larry Marsala, 24, of 5011 Lewis Ave., Mitchell, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital following a fight in Madison at 1:40 a.m. Saturday.

Lonnie McFarland, 27, of 1653 Third St., Madison, was charged with fighting and released by Madison police on notice to appear.

Two other men allegedly were involved and complaints have been signed by the victim, according to police.

Pontoon may need referendum to finance highway project to finance road improvements

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night was informed a referendum may be required before the village can use motor fuel tax funds to pay all of the costs of a program to blacktop all of the village's streets. The project will not raise taxes, a spokesman said.

The Village Board of Trustees is attempting to find a way to pay the village's $155,000 share of the $280,000 project without going to a referendum, it was explained.

Community Development grants are to be used for $125,000 worth of improvements in the low-income areas, but the village has decided to attempt to expand the project to the entire village, if local funds can be found.

It appears borrowing of about $50,000 may be required to complete the project. Finding a means for paying for the interest on that borrowing has been the major problem in the local financing.

State law requires a referendum authorizing the use of motor fuel tax funds to pay interest for a loan. The referendum also would show support for the project and encourage lending institutions to invest in the program.

The referendum can be avoided, if the interest is paid from the village's general fund, which can be reimbursed later from motor fuel taxes, George Shanahan of the Sheppard, Morgan Schwaab consulting and engineering firm, told the board.

The program includes about $215,000 for improving streets and $65,000 for drainage improvements on some streets.

The $90,000 in village funds required for the street improvements will include bringing some of the Lakeview Estates streets up to the state standards so motor fuel tax funds then can be used to blacktop them.

In other business, the board authorized the Nameoki Township Highway Department to make drainage improvements on the north side of Pontoon Road at a cost not to exceed $1,000. Motor fuel taxes will be used to pay for the work.

Delay Indicted in rape case

Richard Kientz, 21, North St., Louis, was indicted Thursday by a Madison County grand jury on two counts of rape and two counts of divulge sexual assault.

Two 18-year-old women from St. Louis allege Kientz was among nine men who drove the two girls from St. Louis to Chouteau Island where they allegedly attacked them Aug. 7, 1976.

Circuit Judge Joseph Barr set Kientz's bond at $200,000, and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Two of the allegedly involved are being sought, one is free on bond and one is serving four to six years in prison after pleading guilty to one count of rape.

Two others are in a state penitentiary and are appealing their convictions. The Madison County state attorney's office has granted immunity to two others as informants.

Two charged

State charges of disorderly conduct have been filed against Charles Locke, 28, of 3002 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Alfred L. Endicott, 29, of 2301 Lincoln Ave., in connection with a Nov. 13 incident at the mobile home park at 2301 Nameoki Road.

It is alleged Endicott drove into the mobile home park, displayed a handgun and ordered Locke and a resident of that park to stand spread-eagled against a mobile home.

Endicott allegedly ordered Locke into his auto and drove him from the area. The charges were filed against both men after investigation indicated the "kidnapping" may have been a prank and the occupant of the mobile home park was led to believe it was real and that his life was in danger.

Madison police, who stopped the two in an auto, also charged Endicott with improper display of license plates. Both men were released on bond.

Positive programs for poor—bishop

Bishop Joseph A. McChesney of the Catholic Diocese of Springfield issued the following statement Friday applauding the override by the Illinois General Assembly of Governor James Thompson's veto of HB 333, which prohibits the use of state funds for abortion:

"It is wonderfully happy news for the people of Illinois that our legislators in both the Senate and House have courageously overridden the governor's veto."

"It demonstrates again that the elected representatives of the people do not wish tax money to be used for the killing of the future citizens of our state."

"Particularly gratifying is the implied conviction of the legislators that the poor are helped with positive programs and not by using public money to kill their young."

SHUTTLE STOLEN

Terry Sutton, 2007 Missouri Ave., Apt. 4, discovered Friday afternoon the door to his bedroom that leads into the hallway had been forced open and a .410 gauge, bolt action Winchester shotgun, valued at $50, had been taken.

DR. WILKINS HOME

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., 2611 Cleveland Blvd., returned home Saturday from Alton Memorial hospital after a four-day stay during which time he underwent surgery to his hip. Dr. Wilkins is reported going well.

TOOLS TAKEN

Bill Frost, 2306 Logan Ave., returned home at 10:15 a.m. Friday after going gone for a week and found $255 worth of tools had been stolen from his garage. The garage door was forced open.

Wheadon wants drainage criteria for use in barring home building

New ordinances listing specific criteria upon which the Metro-East Sanitary District could base its decisions in issuing permits for new homes in the Dorey Slough area will be sought by Wendell Wheadon, he said last week after a meeting in the office of Mayor Paul Schuler.

John Flowe, chief of planning and research of the Illinois Water Resources Bureau of Program Development, and Wheadon, executive director of the sanitary district, were among those present.

Flowe discussed the possibility of new agreements for operation of an electric pump that facilitates flow of drainage from Dorey into a line along Pontoon Road and into the Nameoki drainage ditch.

The pump, located 200 feet north of Pontoon Road near the Alton & Southern railroad tracks, was installed by the state waterways division and is maintained by Granite City, he related.

Wheadon said the sanitary district and Mayor Schuler will seek new five-year agreements for operation of the pump from two private landowners on whose property the pump and drainage line are located. Present agreements are about to expire.

Wheadon told the Press-Record that he feels present permit ordinances by the city of Granite City, Madison County and the sanitary district provide insufficient guidelines.

"The only thing the existing ordinances say is that a permit must be approved by the sanitary district after approval of arrangements for drainage," Wheadon said.

"They provide no criteria upon which those permits may be based."

"I think it is only fair to the public that they know what requirements they must meet before applying for a permit," he added.

"At that same time, the district needs some guidelines upon which rejection or approval of applications can be made."

Wheadon and Flowe agreed to seek a meeting in early December with engineers of the city, county and district to establish guidelines.

Madison business shows increase

Madison businesses have done nearly $1 million more in retail business during the first six months of the city's fiscal year, May through October 1977, than in the same period last year, according to Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk.

Estimate by the mayor is based on the receipt of sales tax by the city. Sales tax collected for the six-month period at the end of October was $82,602, compared to $71,900 for the same period last year.

Al Hudzik, city comptroller noted that the increase in sales tax revenue is about 15 per cent, and that this was about twice the percentage of the inflationary rise. This means that Madison merchants are doing a larger volume of sales, he said.

During last week's council meeting, First Ward Alderman Don Reeves said, "I want to express the feelings of several people in the First Ward on the line job that Madison police and Chief Bridick are doing. They are, at different times, checking businesses, churches and the schools to make sure all is secure. When they find something open, as they did at our school, they act on it to secure the building."

The Madison Fire Department and the police were both praised in a letter to the council by a resident for quick action in an emergency situation at a residence.

The letter from the resident read in part, referring to the firemen and police, "I have never seen such quick action. It seems like I had just called and you were there. I have never seen such a display of kindness. You were all just great."

Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads reported that a new Hurst rescue tool referred to as "the jaws of life" has been purchased by Venice Township for use by the Venice and Madison fire departments.

He described the tool as a modern piece of equipment that is used in rescue work. He noted that it could raise a box car.

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon said, "I received a call, or rather my daughter did while I was not at home, by a citizen complaining of speeding autos and motorcycles on Elizabeth Street."

"Unfortunately, the party did not leave his name and phone number so that I could have checked back with him after I talked to the police."

"I know that I speak for all the aldermen here in saying that we appreciate people calling us when they think something is wrong."

"I would like to ask people when they call us and we are not at home, to leave the name and phone number so we can get directly back to him. We certainly will respect the caller's confidence."

Burglars clean out apartment
Burglars nearly "cleaned out" the apartment of Robert Barnhart, 706 Kirkpatrick Homes during two burglaries within 24 hours of each other last week.

Taken were furniture, knick-knacks, dishes, pots and silverware, food, clothing, a clock, photo albums and other items. Some were recovered at the north end of the 800 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. There were no signs of forced entry either time.

THREATENS BOY
Juvenile authorities are considering charges against a 10-year-old Madison boy who allegedly displayed a gun last week and asked a boy walking in the 2500 block of Edwards Street, "Do you want your head blown off?" Police found the boy shooting the gun in the 2800 block of East 24th Street and discovered it was a BB gun.

Actually, that's just a middle-size loan for us these days. We make some for less. And a lot for a lot more.

So we're not a "small-loan" company, but a large loan center. And a good one.

Homeowner loans, too.

When you're after really large amounts, the equity in your home is a valuable asset. You can use that equity to back very sizable loans from us. And that's nice to know.

Warriors to the courts against Edwards County Friday

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record
Sports Editor

For South basketball coach Don Deterding, it's been a long off-season.

Deterding's Warrior courtmen started out last season with a bang, winning seven of their first nine games. But then, disaster struck. They lost center Terry Angle and most of the rest of their games.

Angle could never get back on the right track once he returned to the lineup, and the Warriors finished the year at 8-11.

BUT NOW it's a new season, one that Deterding is looking forward to. "I'm very optimistic," he said. "We've got a dedicated group of guys and will have four returning lettermen."

Those returnees will be Angle, a 6-4 center, Tom Henrich, Greg Feigl (of soccer fame) and junior Jeff Pahn. The first three are all seniors. The fifth starter should be Jeff Trester, he stands 6-1 but will play forward.

THE BIGGEST player on the team will be 6-8 Rich Mosby. He's a senior, but this season is his first out for basketball.

"I tried to get him to come out last season," said

Deterding. "But he just wasn't inclined to do so until now."

"He has a lot of natural ability and talent, but just lacks game experience. But I think he'll fit in nicely with our program."

DETERDING is no stranger to the hardwoods. He is a graduate of Collinsville High, which is known nation-wide for its basketball prowess. He's beginning his eighth year at the helm as the Warriors. But sandwiched in between was a two-year stint as Athletic Coordinator at North.

He took his '71 squad to the state finals and in 1972, won the Southwest Conference.

WHAT ABOUT THAT CONFERENCE? "I personally wish we were back in it," said Deterding. "I left a 28-2 team of juniors while at Effingham (Senior) back in

'67 just to come Granite so that I could coach in the SWC."

"That shows how much I think of the conference."

"I've never seen a team with a better attitude than the group this year," he added. "They work very hard together and have a good feeling for the team effort."

"I guess our goal would have to be a 500 season (South's) had five straight losing ones). But I think we'll achieve that goal."

THE WARRIORS will get their first chance at the hardwoods this Friday. They're entered in the Red Hill Holiday Tournament in Bridgeport, Ill., about 150 miles east of Granite City on Route 50.

They play Albin (Edwards County) in the first game at 7:30 p.m. They then will face off against Oblong High at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and play the hosts, Red Hill High at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Red Hill is a member of the tough North Egypt Conference. Two of the most powerful basketball schools in the NEC are Lawrenceville (two, Class A state titles) and Olney, home of Ron Herrin, the president of the Illinois' Basketball Coaches Association.

Host Southwest at 8 p.m.

Trojans set out to defend state crown tomorrow

By PETE HAYES

"We'll have a hard time matching last year's record."

The words are those of Madison head basketball coach Larry Graham. The reason for the statement? Oh, just your average state championship and a 29-3 record.

His Trojans latched onto the 1976 Illinois Class A state basketball championship with a team that was dubbed as the "Cinderella type" throughout the playoffs.

BUT THAT'S ALL HISTORY now. Missing from that state championship team are all-stars Randall Jones and Rodney Davis, thus weakening the Trojans' inside game.

But the outside shooting should be even better — if you thought that could be possible. Last year's guards, Anthony King and James Heard-fresh from a successful football season for Madison — will be back. Spelling them will be returning letterman Ron Morris.

SIZE could well be a problem for Graham and his team this season. The tallest player on the squad stands just 6-2.

But the athletes have had strong jumping ability, according to Graham, and might well be up to the challenge.

Lloyd Williams, Clayton

Harris, Kenny Boyd, Eric Stanley and fast-improving Kenny Stanley will all contend for those vacated inside spots.

"I just as quick if not quicker than last year," said Graham. If we can get all players to put the team above themselves, we should have a good year.

"We're quick, strong, and are the type of team that will improve as long as the attitude and desire stay good."

THE TROJANS will have a chance to prove just how good they really are tomorrow night, Nov. 22, when they play host to Southern High School.

The junior varsity game will be at 6:30, while the varsity clash will be at 8 p.m.

The next game for Madison won't be until Dec. 2, a 4 p.m. matchup with arch-rival Venice in Madison.

The Trojans will be involved in two invitational tournaments this season... the Christmas tourney at Bruce Mater Dei and the Dupo invitation in January.

And don't forget the Columbia regional come February. It annually is one of the toughest in the state, featuring such powerhouses as Venice, Lovejoy, Assumption and Freeburg.

Also on this year's schedule are the IHSA Class A Coach of the Year last season.

Anthony, Wood River and always-tough Lebanon.

The Greyhounds of Lebanon will be out for revenge on Jan. 31 at home. Madison knocked the top-ranked squad out of the state playoffs last year.

LARRY GRAHAM is entering his twelfth season of coaching and his ninth at Madison. His record while at the Trojans' helm is 134-48. He was named as the IHSA Class A Coach of the Year last season.

While in college, he started for Allen Bradfield's tough Vincennes team while in junior college and also at Texas Wesleyan University.

"We're eager to get started," said Graham. "The schedule is tough, but it usually is. Venice could well be the toughest team on our schedule."

"But the season starts Tuesday against Southwest."

Cougars nip Indiana in fourth overtime, 3-2

The young Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team eliminated defending NCAA Midwest Regional champion Indiana University Sunday afternoon at Cougar Field, 3-2, in a dramatic sudden-death fourth overtime on a sizzling goal by tiny Jeff Cacciatore.

The winning shot came at 142:22 minutes of as hard-fought soccer game one could possibly imagine being played.

The victory for Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE kickers advanced them to a shot at the regional crown in a confrontation with Cleveland State University this coming weekend.

Friday, Saturday or Sunday at Cleveland's Fennie Stadium.

It was sweet revenge for the Cougars, too. In last year's title battle against Indiana at the Hoosier's Memorial Stadium in Bloomington, Ind., SIUE had right back and tied it up at 15:30 on a blast by Hudson Fortune and moved out into a 2-1 lead at the 45-minute intermission on an unassisted goal by Rudy Glenn.

Freshman sub and defenseman Tim Clark tied it up for the Cougars just (48:00) three minutes into the second half as he took advantage of a 25-mile-an-hour gale and drilled one into the goal from near midfield unassisted.

After the game ended 2-2 in 90 minutes of hard-fought and evenly matched soccer, the Cougars won it all on tiny Jeff Cacciatore's sudden death blast into the nets.

In regulation time, the two teams finished with 21 shots on goal apiece and four saves for SIUE's Bob Robson and Indiana's Cary Field.

One indication of a slight advantage for the Cougars was their overwhelming 10-3 edge in the corner kicks in regular time and 11-3 in all.

SIUE is now 10-3-1 and the Hoosiers closed out their season, 12-2-1. In pre-season play, however, SIUE defeated Indiana, 1-0, in the Hoosiers' backdoor at Evansville, Ind.

Novacich on Blackburn soccer squad

Mike Novacich, son of Mrs. A. Ruth Novacich, is a freshman at Blackburn College in Carlinville, Ill.

Students at Blackburn each work 14 hours per week at on-campus jobs in addition to pursuing their liberal arts studies. Mike's part in the work program is working in the student center.

He says he likes the idea of working on campus to lower tuition and fees. He also appreciates the opportunity to meet the many new people that an active campus life affords.

Novacich is a political science major and has future plans of going into the field of law.

He is on Blackburn's soccer team and plays the position of wing fullback. He is also active in intramural basketball and volleyball.

House agrees—soccer Warriors 'magnificent'

An Illinois House resolution last week by State Representatives Jim McPike, Everett Steele and Joe Lucio notes that "the Granite City South Warriors, the 1976 Illinois state high school soccer champions, captured their second consecutive state championship with a victory over Chicago Schurz High School."

The legislators comment in the resolution that "these mighty Warriors gained the championship through a 6-1 win in the sub-freezing temperatures found in Huskie Stadium at Northern Illinois University."

"They gained access to the championship battle following successive 2-1 victories over New Trier East and Wheaton Central in the quarter finals and semifinals."

"In notching these three victories in a row on alien soil, the courage and ability of the Warriors demonstrated to their many fans that they can continue to look forward to many more such victories in the years to come."

And that the memories thus generated will be indelibly engraved upon the hearts of their thousands of fans for years to come."

"The 1977 squad responded to the call and wisdom of two of the finest coaches in Illinois high school soccer history."

The Bearcat grapplers' season begins Dec. 5.

The players then presented Kehoe with an award for himself... a large loving cup with an ice-cream bottle of champagne inside... as a sign of appreciation for the long hours he put into the Steele soccer program this season.

The soccer cheerleaders, Karen Bruns, Kim Landus, Sara Lybarger, Fay Patrick, Dee Dee Schleicher and Dawn Stoyanoff, presented to Kehoe a hand-inscribed certificate—in a stainless steel frame—in an expression of appreciation.

Kehoe said, "We put a lot of long, hard hours into this season. We didn't accomplish all that we set out to, but nonetheless, we had a season we can be proud of."

updated processing equipment. Schuler said he and City Clerk Robert Stevens conferred in St. Louis last week with a group of company officials, including Jurgens Meyer of Hanover, Germany, chairman of the board of Ferally Corp., and Jerry Murphy of Chicago, president of the corporation. Meyer came to this area during a tour of Ferally Corp. plants in the United States to discuss arrangements for construction of the new Granite City plant, Schuler said. Ferally, which processes steel to customer requirements, operates plants in South America and Mexico as well as in this country. The firm operates plants in this country at Chicago, Bloomington, Dela., Birmingham, Ala., and St. Louis.

Schuler said he was told that the St. Louis plant will be closed after operations begin at the Granite City plant.

According to Schuler, the plant will employ at least 60 persons upon opening and will constitute a new market for steel in this area.

The mayor said Meyer assured him that the plant will use at least 50 per cent of domestic steel in its processing operations and that local labor will be used in construction of the plant.

The new plant is to be built on a tract of land southwest of 25th Street and the railroad tracks. The issuance of revenue bonds to help the firm finance the plant is authorized under an ordinance approved by the City Council several years ago to aid in development of business and industry.

After the bond ordinance is enacted, Schuler and Stevens will go to Chicago to complete details of the transaction with the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Co., which has offered to buy the bonds.

The city funds — proceeds of the bond issue — will be used to build the plant which will be leased by the corporation. The firm will retire the bond principal and interest.

system and make it more attractive and accessible.

Candidate A, the all-bus system, promises continuation of the existing bus service with scheduled improvements over the next five years.

The expanded bus system, as proposed by the Bi-State Development Agency, includes:

—Neighborhood circulator buses in Jennings, Normandy, Ballwin-Ellisville, Lemay-Mehlville, Kirkwood and Florissant.

—Local service routes in Clayton and Belleville.

—Dial-A-Ride service for elderly and handicapped in the areas of University City, Clayton-Richmond Heights, Lemay-Afton, Kirkwood-Webster Groves and Jennings-Ferguson.

—Park-and-ride facilities at 11 suburban locations which is hoped would lure motorists, currently making long drives to employment centers, from their cars onto buses.

—Timed-transfer centers at 11 locations in St. Louis County to facilitate transfers between routes.

—And, passenger shelters at 1245 locations throughout the system.

Essentially, the expanded bus service would take the existing bus system and make it more attractive and accessible.

The second candidate system, the freeway-bus alternative, proposes to incorporate the present system but with added features. Specifically, it would use all of the area's major highways in providing express service.

Basically, the system consists of 191 miles of freeway express bus service and 23 miles of special roadway designed for exclusive use by buses, with local and feeder routes transporting passengers to express service stops.

To achieve high operating speeds, a limited amount of express lanes would be used in corridors leading to employment centers.

This system would incorporate a greater number of park-and-ride lots, 26, which would be located immediately adjacent to the freeway bus stops.

The park-and-ride lots include basic features, such as convenient access from surrounding streets, a well lighted and attractively landscaped area, and the use of pay phones, and information regarding bus routes and schedules.

The 26 lots would be located throughout the system in Illinois and Missouri.

Freeway stop stations would be provided at Chesterfield, Valley Park, Arnold, Edwardsville, Fairview Heights, St. Charles, Lindbergh and Brentwood.

The freeway bus routes would be designed to make maximum use of existing freeways and expressways.

Transit priority treatment measures, such as bus bypass lanes, bus use of frontage roads, bus-only ramps and lanes, would be implemented in areas where congestion reaches undesirable levels.

In the immediate future, however, are expected to remain the backbone of all transit systems, not only for this region but nationwide.

Candidate C, the light rail or modern trolley system, consists of 97 miles of new light rail lines but incorporates 143 miles of freeway bus service in corridors without feasible light rail facilities.

The light rail alternative, if implemented, will feature an electrically propelled, medium capacity (50-80 passenger) steel-wheel-on-rail vehicle capable of operating as a single unit or in multi-unit (three car) trains. The vehicle would be powered by electrical energy from overhead trolley wires.

The vehicles would operate on the surface of existing streets, either in lanes shared with auto or in lanes exclusively designated for rail vehicles.

About half of the light rail system is designed to operate on elevated (above ground) structures with a small per cent of the system operating underground (subway).

The subway system includes the existing Eighth Street tunnel (downtown) plus a new tunnel under Kingshighway.

The system also includes 27 park-and-ride lots which would feed into the trolley system. Station stops would be spaced at greater distances in order to achieve high operating speeds.

Effective public transportation is viewed as becoming increasingly important as environmental pollution, energy costs, and traffic congestion rise.

Since it is the public that is served by mass transit, it is reasonable that citizens help select the system, authorities say.

The danger of planners making grandiose plans which fail to meet public needs and therefore remain merely plans is inherent in mass transit planning as well as the planning process, it is asserted.

To avoid such "cold storage plans," the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the metropolitan St. Louis area's comprehensive planning agency, will conduct workshops soon, at which community leaders can express their concerns and needs for mass transit.

The system which best serves the region's people will be "elected" to the office of the St. Louis area's mass transit system.

The board expressed considerable interest in school fire drills after Board Member Sam Dymass submitted a report on drills at the Madison High School.

Fellow board member Richard Zeisel, myself and firemen James Shipcoff and Mike Macke staged a fire drill on Friday, Nov. 4, at about 2:30 p.m., he said. It took five to 10 minutes to clear the school. Some of the teachers thought it a joke and would not dismiss their classes and the alarms did not work," Dymass said.

After a meeting with the principal, it was reported that the fire alarm system was made operable and another drill was held on Nov. 15 at 10 a.m. The building was cleared in two minutes and 23 seconds.

After a discussion, the superintendent read to the board two letters sent to staff members at MHS which indicated that failure to follow fire drill procedures will be considered by the board as grounds for dismissal of staff.

Security procedures were questioned at the MHS as a result of a $386 theft from the safe in the school office.

The money was the concession stand and gate receipts from the Saturday, Oct. 1, football game with Columbia. The theft was discovered by a school secretary who had been off ill when she returned to work Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Board member Dymass asked Palchiff if a police report had been made.

Palchiff said, "I really don't know, I would hope so."

A Madison police spokesman said no report had been made to the best of his knowledge and no report was on file.

The walk-in safe doors have been ordered to be kept close by the board. A special metal container will be built inside the safe to keep money in, with only two persons having a key.

In other action the board approved a school newspaper at MHS being started again; approved plans for a banquet for all football players, coaches and families of the football players, both varsity and freshman-sophomore players; eliminated three teacher-only positions that had not been filled from last year; established a specific bank deposit policy for employee-withholding to avoid any possible Internal Revenue Service problems.

Sanitary board opens teamster contract talks

Discussion of new working agreements for approximately 10 employees of the Metro-East Sanitary District who are members of Teamsters Union Local 50, East St. Louis, began by the five-man sanitary district board Friday morning in a meeting at East St. Louis.

Board members met with representatives of Teamster Local 50, East St. Louis, and Teamsters Local 325, Granite City, to discuss the union proposals for new working agreements. The present contracts expire Jan. 1.

Following a regular business meeting in which the trustees approved a two-weeks pay of $38,237, up $3,383 from the previous payroll, the trustees convened in executive session to discuss the union requests by the teamsters.

The payroll increase resulted from a recent high river stage which required operation of the district's pumping stations on a 24-hour basis, according to Russell Robinson of Granite City, president of the board. He said the payroll will be smaller during November.

The board also has called upon all departments to submit new budget figures for the 1978 appropriation bill which will be adopted in January. The board is scheduled to reorganize and elect officers on Dec. 5.

BATTERIES STOLEN
Three men driving a 1973 red Plymouth Fury were seen taking batteries from inside the lot at Suburban Tire Co. 28th Street and Nameoki Road, at 1:15 p.m. Saturday. The gate apparently was left unlocked and 12 batteries are believed to have been taken. The three thieves were described as in their 20's with long dark hair.

vice each Sunday morning. In April 1956, Rev. Surbey was elected part-time president of the Illinois South Conference, serving in this capacity until 1958.

On Aug. 6, 1961, six years after the dedication of the educational building, a special note-burning ceremony was held, celebrating payment in full on the completed building and equipment.

In 1967, Rev. Surbey was elected to serve as a delegate to a historic Cleveland meeting consummating the merger of the Evangelical and Reformed churches and the Congregational Christian Churches. Out of this union, the new United Church of Christ was born.

National recognition was bestowed upon Rev. Surbey when delegates from all the states, meeting at Oberlin, Ohio, in June 1969, elected him to the executive council of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. He continued to serve in this capacity until the dissolution of the executive council in 1970.

In preparation for the centennial celebration of the St. John congregation, a personage committee was appointed. Subsequently, the personage personage was dedicated on Dec. 3, 1961.

Following eight years and two summers of part-time studies, in June 1972 Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, awarded Rev. Surbey the degree of doctorate in the field of pastoral care.

In recent years, Dr. Surbey has been active in counseling in a wide variety of crisis situations. Responding to a growing number of requests, he and other concerned individuals launched a "mobile meals" service in 1972 to elderly and handicapped persons of the Quad-City area. This program has shown a steady growth year by year. At present between 45 and 60 hot meals are delivered from St. Elizabeth's Hospital five days each week.

Dr. Surbey has served on the board of directors of the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross, Illinois Family Service and the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic.

Active on the Tri-Cities Area United Way Admissions and Distribution Committee, he also has served as a special resource person for Protestant Welfare.

Dr. Surbey served as chairman of the first Madison County Citizens Committee that studied and recommended the construction of a new county jail facility at Edwardsville. He was active in soliciting support for the present county juvenile detention home at Edwardsville.

He has served as president of the Quad-City Ministerial Allentown Chapter of the Granite City Optimist Club.

For the past year, Dr. Surbey has been serving as one of three professional counselors to the local chapter of Parents Without Partners.

The Surbys have two married children. Mrs. Gary (Jan) Wendle is teaching special education in the Parkway School district, Creve Coeur, Mo.

P. Dean Surbey is a graduate student at the University of Minnesota, working towards his doctor of philosophy degree in the field of child development.

The pastor's wife, Mrs. Georgia Surbey, has been active in the Chancel Choir of St. John Church and the local chapter of the P.E.O. Society.

The Surbys have moved to their new home in Cottonwood Station, Glen Carbon.

Immunization cards offered
Some children get more from the measles than little red spots. Some lose their hearing, or suffer brain damage. And measles can be fatal, even though it is a disease that can be prevented.

To remind parents of the importance of having their children immunized against childhood diseases, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. is offering a free family immunization record card which serves as a schedule of immunizations for each child. The card is available at the Granite City district office at 2703 Nameoki Road.

Vandalism a problem in many neighborhoods

Vandalism, a costly and annoying problem, is becoming a growing factor in companies that underwrite homeowner and auto insurance policies pulling out of an area or increasing their rates, many believe.

Seldom is there a day in which incidents of broken windows, damaged cars, spray-painted buildings or other vandalism are not reported to Granite City police. Following is the record for a 24-hour period last week.

The 11 vandalism cases reported to police were somewhat higher than normal, but not drastically out of line with the volume of such reports written each day.

Reports started at 6:30 a.m. when Mary Lou Smith, 2449 Illinois Ave., said her car had been entered at her home. The steering column and turn indicator lever had been bent and the knobs had been taken from the radio and gear shift lever.

At 7:05 a.m., Norman Russell, 1774 Poplar St., reported four tires on his two vehicles had been cut at his home.

Eugene Wilkerson, 7721 E. 24th St., said at 8:10 a.m. that sacks of white paint had been thrown onto his car in his carport.

At 11:25 a.m. as Clarence Hand, 208 Kirkpatrick Homes, found plastic sacks of white and black paint had been thrown on his car, parked on Edwards Street near his apartment.

At 12:15 p.m., Ervin Mabry, 9124 Niedringhaus Ave., noted that someone had climbed onto his camping trailer. The vandal had broken the ventilator and damaged the exhaust fan by breaking its bracket and removing the fan blades.

Thomas Campbell, 713 Twenty-sixth St., next discovered white paint and eggs had been thrown on his pickup truck in front of his home.

At 5 p.m., Charles Hileman of Grand Avenue noticed red paint had been sprayed on the northeast corner of his house. A 12-year-old neighbor boy admitted the incident and said he had hit his bicycle on a nail on the house and painted the bicycle. He then threw a brick at the paint cans spattering additional paint on the house. His parents agreed to pay for the damages.

At 6:30 p.m., Bruce Groshong, 3313 Princeton Drive, who is moving into a house at 2342 Princeton Drive, reported a basement window damaged and removed and shoe marks on the inside basement wall.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Paul Anders, 2200 Adams St., Apt. 3, was watching television when a BB or pellet struck and broke a window at his apartment. When he tried to make a call, he discovered the telephone lines to his apartment and another had been pulled from the northeast corner of the apartment building. Two young boys had been prowling in the area.

At 10:10 p.m., Linda Pollard, 106 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported a root beer bottle thrown through the kitchen window pane.

One hour later, authorities were told a man had kicked the parked auto of the Goodall family, 2224 Wisconsin Ave., parked near their home. Tommy W. Gibson, 21, of 2326 Logan St., was arrested at West 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue a few minutes later and was charged with disorderly conduct.

Auditions for 'barn' opera

Annual fall singing auditions — and interviews for Opera in the Barn technical assistants — for the Midland Repertory Players of the Kaye Shanahan Singers will be held on Friday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 and on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 at 900 Henry St., Alton.

This company of singers under the direction of Kaye Shanahan, Alton, has completed eight seasons of opera in rural Greenfield. The setting is a rustic, 106-year-old barn, the first and only grand opera in an authentic barn.

The company has performed ambitious programs in the past two years, including Il Tabor by Puccini, Down in the Valley by Weill, The Red Death by Rignoli, La Cenerentola by Rossini, Mavra by Stravinsky, Marriage of Figaro by Mozart, A Cup of Coffee by Rignoli, Mignon by Thomas, The Magic Flute by Mozart and The Tales of Hoffman by Offenbach.

At the Waterford, Ireland, music festival in 1975, the group presented Strauss' Die Fledermaus in the 400-year-old Theater Royale. The rear wall of that stage dates from the days of the Roman invasion of Ireland.

Production Director Shanahan has been affiliated for over 30 years with leaders in the operatic fields of the United States and Europe. Most of his work has been as assistant conductor and coordinator of production.

Singers wishing to audition may mail their name and address with a $2 registration fee to Midland Repertory Players, 930 Henry St., Alton 62002. They are to bring their music and also their accompanist if they wish.

City wisely hurrying to utilize present jail grant and bids

Described by Illinois Corrections Department officials as "one of the finest plans ever drawn," the Granite City jail and police station proposal ought to be implemented now by the city government and the Economic Development Administration. The EDA is ready to provide $744,000 of the cost.

The lowest combination of base bids totaled $985,396. But it may be possible to trim off some of the optional elements of the project, perhaps delaying or eliminating about $100,000 of work or equipment.

Granite City aldermen and other municipal officers are wisely attempting to reduce the contract amount while also determining whether any additional funds sources can be added to the grant. Prompt action is necessary, lest the EDA funding expire.

Union sees excessive government taxation as harming all

Council 16, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, is bemoaning government taxing policies can and do nullify private sector union power.

Government is in active competition and conflict in two areas with the individual worker.

What government extracts from the individual employer irrevocably reduces the amount of money the employees of that employer will be able to secure through union collective bargaining or individual negotiation.

What government extracts in the form of open and concealed taxes from the individual worker simply reduces the amount of money available to the family for food, clothing and shelter.

Having only one source to turn to, the worker attempts to replace the monies expropriated by government by escalating his wage demands on the employer. Thus begins the chain reaction which frequently leads to reduced employment opportunities and, worse, relocation of the business.

The simple and ironical fact is that the tax collector does not pay union dues. He does not walk the picket line, but is nevertheless the first beneficiary of any wage increase secured by the worker. This perfect stranger gets his cut first, leaving a substantially reduced amount for the family.

State will try harder — with 'soft sell' — to attract tourists

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — Soon, if the Illinois Office of Tourism has its way, the visitor crossing the Illinois state line will be lured off the highway into an attractive rest area, beguiled with foot, state drinks or coffee, and given odds of reasons why he — and his money — should stay within the state.

Illinois is one of only a handful of states which does not already provide such "welcome centers," according to Marjorie Benders, assistant director of tourism.

Establishment of such an Illinois soft sell operation will be included in next year's budget, which will reflect a hefty increase in available funding, thanks to a bill recently signed by Gov. James Thompson.

In the future, 10 percent of the state's hotel and motel operators' occupational tax money will be earmarked for the program where it is hoped that it will act as seed money to get more people to stay in the state's hotels and motels and thereby generate even more tax funds along with more business for the hotels and motels.

Since the hotels and motels' occupational tax amount to $16.5 million in 1976, that 10 percent promises to vastly expand the tourism office's ability to blow the state's horn. Loudly.

In the current year, the Department of Business and Economic Development's accounting section shows that tourism (a BED division) was appropriated $138,184 for statewide promotion, and another $32,200 for producing the handout brochures, calendars, of events, and various guides aimed at enticing the tourist to the state.

Currently, the tourism office has 14 full time members and an annual overall budget of about $600,000.

Other states average 30 to 35 people and budgets of more than a million, but despite that Illinois ranks seventh in the U.S. in tourism revenue.

Two years ago, Illinois was fifth in the nation, but the two-place dip reflects an increasingly aggressive stance on the part of various southern states.

In recent years, the office has had a yo-yo record, dollar-wise. A couple of administrations ago, the office had scads of money and was running handsome ads in out-of-state publications, aimed at luring visitors to discover Illinois.

One promotion was based on the concept: "Just outside Chicago there's a place called Illinois." That theme that there is more to the state than the Windy City, is a perennial one with the Office of Tourism, which constantly tries to stress the vast variety the state has to offer.

Yet, knowing this fact, the state continues to exempt them, in spite of a recommendation by the Ways and Means Committee to include them.

The action came after Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Califano, a government employee himself — sent a letter to each representative urging maintenance of the privileged status of government employees.

It had enough that government workers can refuse to help carry the burden. But worse yet, many of the them are taking advantage of the system to get what amounts to a free ride on the backs of the rest of us.

With a little effort, they can have the best of both worlds: generous pensions of their own, plus Social Security on top of that. Here's how it works: The government employee gets a part-time job in the private sector. He doesn't have to be a full-time consumer. Just earn $50 a quarter for 40 quarters (10 years), and you are entitled to the minimum Social Security contributions and it would give legislators an opportunity to consider the concerns of all constituents.

Need compensation advisory council

To the Editor:

We are thankful to those legislators who supported Senate Bill 6 (Unemployment Compensation).

We realize this federally-required program was an extremely complicated piece of legislation. Trying to apply federal requirements equally for all concerned in Illinois was a difficult and thankless task at best.

But their action has eliminated some meaningless, expensive federal penalties that would have seriously jeopardized business in Illinois.

It would be nice to think that Senate Bill 6 represents the end of federal interference in unemployment compensation.

But, already, new federal unemployment compensation legislation is now being considered. Only time will tell its effect upon Illinois.

Unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation legislation — due to federal demands, increased costs and various other factors — will be a continuing issue before the Illinois General Assembly.

We think it would be beneficial for all if legislators considered establishing some sort of mandatory board, commission or advisory council which could consider recommendations prior to the beginning of a session.

The establishment of such a procedure should eliminate ninth-hour legislation and all the confusion that goes with it. All interested parties would have time to make meaningful contributions and it would give legislators an opportunity to consider the concerns of all constituents.

Social Security payments, benefits involve unfairness

By RICHARD L. LESHER

U.S. Chamber of Commerce

In one of the most astonishing displays of cynical, selfish, money-grubbing politics that Washington has ever seen, the House of Representatives voted on Oct. 26 to triple the maximum Social Security tax, while taking great pains to exempt from it members of Congress and other government employees.

If the House bill is enacted into law, the payroll tax paid by an employee will rise in stages from the current maximum of $965 a year to over $3,000 in 1987. The employer would have to match this payment, for a combined maximum of more than $6,000.

Some increase in the tax is necessary to save the Social Security system. All experts recognize that.

But the increase per worker would not have to be as large if the six million workers who exempt from the tax — mostly government employees — were contributing their fair share.

Yet, knowing this fact, the House voted 366 to 18 to continue to exempt them, in spite of a recommendation by the Ways and Means Committee to include them.

The action came after Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Califano, a government employee himself — sent a letter to each representative urging maintenance of the privileged status of government employees.

It had enough that government workers can refuse to help carry the burden. But worse yet, many of the them are taking advantage of the system to get what amounts to a free ride on the backs of the rest of us.

With a little effort, they can have the best of both worlds: generous pensions of their own, plus Social Security on top of that. Here's how it works: The government employee gets a part-time job in the private sector. He doesn't have to be a full-time consumer. Just earn $50 a quarter for 40 quarters (10 years), and you are entitled to the minimum Social Security retirement pension. That's now about $120 a month.

And what would our minimum-contributor have to pay in Social Security taxes for that $120 a month? A grand total of $120.

How's that for a bargain? A lifetime pension of $120 a month for a total investment of $120. Don't be misled by counter-arguments that federal workers "pay" for their special pension. They do indeed contribute seven percent of their pay to their pension fund, but that contribution covers only one-sixth of the cost of the federal retirement system, which is one of the world's most generous.

The rest has to be made up out of general revenues. Besides, many workers in the private sector also contribute to their pension funds, and they still have to pay the full Social Security tax, too.

Since federal workers can retire as early as age 55, there's another way they can play the retirement game for even higher stakes. Let's take a simplified, hypothetical case for comparison:

George works for 30 years in a civil service job and retires in 1967, at age 55. During his last three years on the job, he earned $16,000 annually, that entitled him to an immediate federal pension of a little over $9,000 a year.

When he retired from the government, George took a job in the private sector at the same rate of pay: $16,000.

For the last 10 years, he has been collecting his pay plus his federal pension, which was increased frequently to compensate for inflation. And since he is now in the private sector, he has also been paying the maximum Social Security tax.

Now that George is 65, he is eligible to receive a Social Security pension of about $4,000 a year ($6,000 if he's married). And his government pension has increased from the initial $9,000 to almost $16,000, thanks to the inflation adjustment. So, his total retirement income at age 65 is roughly $20,000 to $22,000 a year.

Sam is a worker in the private sector who is the same age as George and has earned about the same annual salary.

Sam has had to wait until age 65 to retire, and is now starting to receive a Social Security pension of a little less than $6,000 a year, even though he has contributed to the Social Security system his whole working life.

On top of the Social Security payment, Sam will get whatever private-sector pension he may qualify for. But even if his private-sector pension is as generous as George's government pension, George will still be far ahead, because he has been receiving his pension for the last 10 years, while Sam's is just starting.

That's a brief sample of the generosity of the federal Civil Service pension system. The congressional retirement system is even more generous, if you can believe it.

No wonder the vote was 386 to 38.

Hileman trial due to start on Wednesday

A jury trial is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Edwardsville on four felony counts of theft against Charles Hileman Sr. of Granite City, who resigned as the city's assistant fire chief after being indicted by a Madison County grand jury Sept. 7.

The indictments against Hileman allege he had been dealing in stolen guns, coats and church items which had been taken during burglaries in Tennessee.

The trial is set for Wednesday before Circuit Judge Joseph Barr in Madison County Circuit Court at the County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Joe Brown said he is ready to prosecute the case, unless there is a pleaing before the trial begins.

ICE SKATING LESSONS
The Granite City Park District will begin a new series of ice skating lessons for children, 4 years old and over, on Saturday, Dec. 3.

Registration will take place Monday, Nov. 28, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Wilson Park Rink.

Claude Orrick succumbs

Claude Orrick, 62, of O'Fallon, Mo., a former long-time resident of Granite City, died at 7 a.m. today at St. Joseph Hospital, St. Charles, Mo., after a lengthy illness.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Kiehl-Davis Funeral Home, O'Fallon, Mo.

Mr. Orrick, who retired from McDonnell-Douglas Corp. in 1955 after 37 years, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene (James) Orrick; a daughter, Mrs. Claudine Weeks of Burbank, Calif.; and two granddaughters. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

News notes

The Poplar Street Bridge was closed for four hours Saturday when a truck jackknifed on Interstate 55-70 in East St. Louis.

Nominating petitions are being circulated for Mrs. Phyllis Schaffly of Alton as a possible Republican contender for the U.S. Senate.

State Rep. Wywyette Young, East St. Louis Democrat, this week will pay the nearly $1,400 delinquent taxes owed on two properties she owns, she said Friday.

The Illinois Senate last week passed a House-approved bill allowing buses to be 102 inches wide, instead of 96. The Bi-State Agency this year obtained 157 wide buses, all equipped with wheelchair lift equipment for the handicapped, and plans to begin using them on Illinois routes.

A senior citizen speak-out session is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 30, at the Township Community Building, 216 Crane St., Edwardsville.

Nate C. Silvers, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, announced that the program is one of several being held around the state by the Illinois Department on Aging.

Enactment of the December 1977-November 1978 budget, set tentatively at $33,066,991, is set for Wednesday's 9:30 a.m. meeting of the Madison County Board. Election judges' pay is to be set at $40, and a contract is to be awarded for gasoline for sheriff department vehicles.

Illinois Power Company's Wood River electric power generating plant is in competition with an Ohio Edison plant at West Lorain as the site for a proposed $50 million coal gasification plant. It was announced Friday. Coal would be converted to liquid fuels through a "slain gas" process.

Illinois Power Co. is one of five Midwestern utilities seeking federal backing for their peak demand periods. The U.S. Energy Department is expected to act on the proposal in December.

Illinois Secretary of State Alan Dixon will address Granite City Rotarians at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

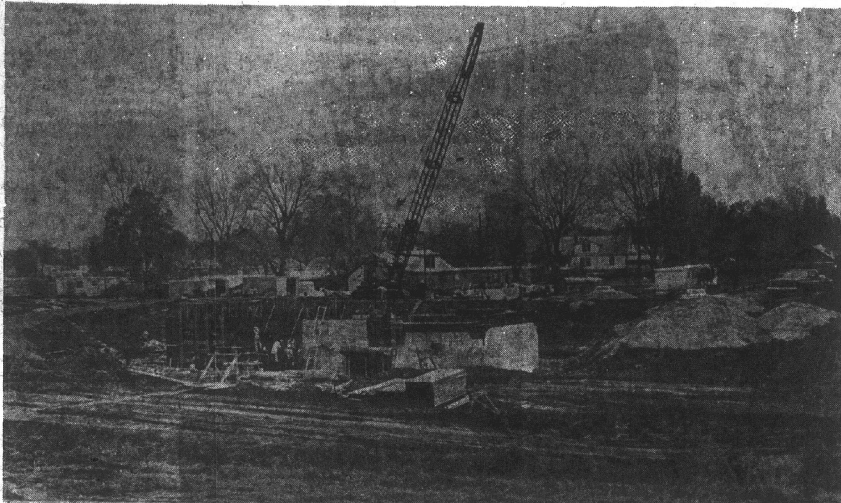

First-aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation instructors met Thursday evening at the local Red Cross office and plan to meet every three months. They reviewed new teaching materials and decided to hold an advanced first-aid course of at least 40 hours after the first of the year. Mrs. Maxine Dunham is Red Cross first-aid chairman.

Illinois legislators completed overrides Thursday of two veto actions. The result will be that state funds won't be used for abortions, and it will be legal to use Laetrile to fight cancer.

Youth's car crashes into house; 4 charges filed

Dennis L. Vickers, 17, of 2228 Terminal Ave., driving a 1970 LeMans, crashed into the corner of a brick house at Fehling Road and Bradley Avenue, struck a utility pole, a yard light and a parked car and sustained minor injuries at 11 p.m. Thursday.

He was charged with speeding too fast for conditions, illegal transportation of liquor, driving while under the influence of liquor and being a minor in possession of alcohol. Two open bottles of wine allegedly were confiscated from the auto.

A passenger in Vickers' car, Tully W. Fowler, 17, of 2408 Terminal Ave., was charged with illegal possession of liquor and being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Police said Vickers' auto was traveling west on Fehling and left the roadway, going about 15 feet before hitting a "no parking" sign, then continued another 100 feet, sideswiping a utility pole and causing the street light to go out.

The auto then slid sideways about 70 feet and knocked down a yard light, went a further 30 feet and crashed into the residence of George Stoppotte, 300 Fehling Road, caving in the corner of the dwelling, and then slid backward six feet striking Stoppotte's 1970 Olds 98, parked in the driveway, police reported.

$5,300 in theft loot taken

Tools and equipment, valued at $5,300, were stolen in a burglary at Jay's Radiator, 718 Niedringhaus Ave., it was reported at 7:30 a.m. Friday by Jay Hayes, owner of the firm.

Hayes said the items were not insured as he had not been covered by insurance since a previous burglary.

The burglar knocked a hold in the fibre-board panel of an overhead door, near a lock to gain entry.

A Doberman Pinscher and a German Shepherd kept inside the building apparently allowed the intruder to enter and leave the premises.

Three men were with him when he closed the shop at 5 p.m. Thursday, Hayes told police.

Taken were a red roll-a-way tool box, worth $360, a full set of tools, valued at $1,000, a red floor jack, $250, and a 20-volt electric welder, $400.

Also stolen was a collection of tools belonging to Richie Powell, 2161 Monroe St., valued at $3,000, and a second box, worth $280.

Venice automotive training center nearing completion

A new building housing a complete automotive training center is 90 per cent finished at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, the Venice Board of Education was informed at its meeting Thursday night.

Equipment already has been installed in the center, which is being constructed by G. H. Sternberg Co., and parts of the metal building are in use, the board was told.

An initial payment of $40,000 was authorized to the builder.

A class of 13 nurse aides will graduate at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in ceremonies at the Venice Recreation Center on Broadway, Supl. of Schools Robert N. Vickers reported.

Most of the meeting was spent in executive session, closed to the public, while adjustments were discussed in regards to the Trainable Mentally Handicapped class at Venice.

Due to a heavier class load this school year, problems are being experienced and part of the discussion focused upon hiring additional aides.

Larry Dew, administrator of Special Education Region I, and his assistant, Stuart Miller, attended the session, along with the parents of several TMH pupils.

No action was taken by the board in the regular meeting.

TRAINING CENTER IN USE. The automotive training center at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center on South Fourth Street, Venice, is nearly complete and is in use by students. The $57,000 structure was erected by the G. H. Sternberg Co. south of the gymnasium of the former elementary school. Measuring 75 by 40 feet, the building has an additional 40 by 24 foot slab to be used as an outside work area. The slab also may be used for further expansion of the building. The building houses three work bays and a grease rack, all accessible by overhead doors. The structure was built at no direct cost to the residents of the school district.

"Putting up a home CB antenna? Play it safe, good buddy!"

Follow these nine safety rules stressed by experts in CB antenna installation:

1 (see lower right)

2 Don't assume that a line is a telephone or television cable line. Don't touch any lines.

3 Don't assume that power lines are insulated. Even if they are, don't touch them.

4 Don't do the work on a windy day. The wind can blow the antenna or tower into a power line.

5 Don't touch the antenna if it falls across a power line. Call Illinois Power Company.

6 Make certain that, should the antenna fall, it will not touch a power line. Step off the distance to the nearest line or use a measuring tape.

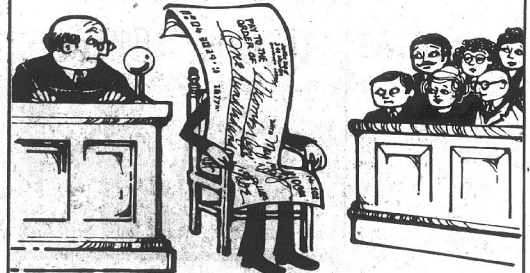

7 Wear gloves that will insulate and rubber boots or rubber-soled shoes to lessen grounding.

8 Assemble the antenna close to the installation site. This will eliminate having to carry it near possible hazards.

9 Have enough manpower to prevent the antenna from toppling.

Whether it's for your Citizen's Band radio or your television set, any antenna installation is potentially hazardous. Call a professional installer and have the job done right—and safely.

Holiday safety tips

Accidents don't take holidays. In fact, more fire-related accidents occur in December than at any other time of the year. Ironically, the objects which help brighten the holiday season can cause disaster if used in an unsafe fashion.

Decorative lights and materials should be purchased and used wisely and correctly, according to Underwriters Laboratories, a not-for-profit organization testing for public safety. It offers the following holiday safety tips. "For decorative lighting:

In outdoor use, only weatherproof lighting and extension cords should be used. Before plugging in your lights, check each set and extension cords for broken or cracked sockets and plugs, frayed or bare wires, or loose connections. Unsafe equipment should be discarded immediately. Make certain that bulbs are not loose in their sockets.

Use rubber light socket gaskets, and replace if needed. Don't work with light strings or extension cords while they are electrically connected. Never stretch light strings or extension cords wiring. Fasten outdoor lights securely to a firm support to protect against wind.

When arranging lights for decorative use, make certain not to overload the circuits. Electrical wiring, forced to carry more current than it is intended to handle, may overheat and a fire may result. Look for the wire capacity listing, and do not use more than the manufacturer's recommended number of light strings on one circuit.

Never place decorative lighting, close to flammable materials. Decorations are natural attention-grabbers for children, so keep them out of their reach and keep a close watch on youngsters.

Never use string lights on a metal tree. A short in the insulation could make the tree electrically "live." Use spotlights to illuminate a metal tree.

Always turn off decorative lights when leaving home or retiring for the night. Short-circuits and fires can result. The selection of a Christmas tree, whether natural or artificial, is a crucial matter. Artificial trees should be labeled flame resistant, as some trees can burn with extreme vigor.

A natural tree should always be checked for freshness. When buying a natural tree, the following should be heeded: Check for color and scent. A fresh tree is deep green and has a strong evergreen scent.

Needles should be hard to pull from the branches. When bent between your fingers, fresh needles don't break. The trunk butt of a fresh tree is sticky with sap.

Bounce the tree on the ground. A shower of needles shows that the tree is too dry. Place the tree carefully, away from fireplaces, radiators, and other heat sources. See that it is out of the way of the traffic pattern. Cut off about two inches from the trunk. Mount the tree in a sturdy, water-holding stand with wide-spread supports for stability.

Fill the base holder with water. Keep it full of water, checking daily. Heated rooms dry trees out rapidly, making trees more flammable.

When trimming the tree, fireplace mantel, etc., use only noncombustible and flame-retardant materials.

Choose tinsel or artificial icicles of elastic or non-leaded metals. Leaded materials are hazardous if ingested by children or pets.

When making decorations, look for materials labeled flame-resistant. Never place trimmings near open flames, heat sources and electrical connections.

Remove all wrapping paper from tree and fireplace areas immediately after presents are opened. Place the paper in a covered metal trash container or burn it in an incinerator.

Do not burn such papers in the fireplace. A flash fire may result, as wrapping paper can ignite suddenly and burn fiercely.

In case of fire, be prepared. Sit down with your family and draw up an emergency escape plan, selecting a common meeting point outside.

Keep a fully-charged fire extinguisher handy. Every family member and babysitters as well should know beforehand where the extinguishers are located and how to operate them properly.

Keep fire department, police, ambulance, doctor and other emergency service numbers posted on or near your telephone. Plan for safety. Remember, there is no substitute for common sense, the UL group stresses. Look for and eliminate potential danger spots and have a holiday safety alert.

Springfield area track to be built

A building permit has been issued for construction of the grandstand and club house at Lincoln Land Downs, a new pari-mutuel race track to be built north of Springfield.

The permit was granted by the Sherman Village Board in a special meeting last week. The track complex will be located about four miles north of the Illinois State Fair Grounds in Springfield.

The grandstand will seat 3,500 people. It will have a dining room accommodating about 500 people and will have electronic equipment for a multiple wagering system.

"The grandstand and club house will be one of the best, if not the best, in the Midwest," says Sam Howard, president.

"It has been designed as a comfortable, medium-sized sports arena by the best race track consultants." A date for groundbreaking for the multi-million-dollar facility is to be announced soon.

Judge outlines opposition to role on slate

Following is the text of a Nov. 16 letter by Circuit Judge Andreas "Andy" Matosian to Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Democratic chairman, upon deciding not to attend a party screening session.

"This letter is prompted by a recent article in the press to the effect that Democratic candidates may appear before a screening committee to solicit endorsement for the Democratic nomination for various political offices. I assume candidates for judicial offices are included.

"As you know, I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of circuit judge in the primary election to be held on March 21, 1978.

"Naturally, I hope to have the support of the elected Democratic committeemen and committeewomen and all Democrats on the strength of my record and service over a period of 12 years as an associate circuit judge and more recently as a circuit judge by appointment of the Supreme Court of Illinois.

"However, I do not believe it is appropriate for any candidate for judicial office, and especially a serving judge before whom a great variety of cases are pending, to meet privately with any group or committee which may expect as a condition of their support certain commitments to a slate of candidates screened and selected by the committee.

"While I fully support the idea of an elected judiciary, it is my fervent belief that a judge or candidate for judicial office must not be bound to or make a commitment to a slate of candidates which might affect his or her performance of judicial duties.

"In view of the opinions expressed in this letter and my understanding of the duties and responsibilities of a circuit judge, I cannot in good conscience appear before a screening committee.

"I hope and expect to be judged by the people according to my merit and record, and as fairly as I have attempted to judge the cases brought before me in the Circuit Court."

GC students to record carols for television

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Board of Education granted permission last week to students attending both South and North High Schools and the elementary schools, who are members of school choruses, to participate in a recorded television performance on Channel 30 during the Christmas season.

Each school will record two or three Christmas carols which will be played during station breaks as a holiday project. The educational experience for the students is to include a visit to the television studio where the recordings will be made, it was noted.

Board members also reviewed the results of an auction of antique furniture from the Home Economics Department at South High School, conducted earlier this month.

The project netted $998 with a 10 per cent fee to be paid to the auctioneer. The board agreed to direct the remaining money to the Home Economics Club fund for future equipment needs in that department.

A collection of tape recordings on the history of Illinois, donated by the First Granite City National Bank for use in the school libraries was accepted by the board.

In other business the board accepted the resignations of Dolores Hillis, matron at Coolidge Junior High School, effective Dec. 31, and Donnie Reynolds, custodian, effective this week.

They also granted leaves of absence to Mary Holloway, McKinley School teacher from Jan. 13, 1978 to Jan. 12, 1979, and to Mamie Waggoner, cafeteria worker at Prather Junior High School, from Nov. 28, 1977, to Nov. 27, 1978.

The board hired Sherry Lynn Early of New Douglas, Ill., as an English-Spanish teacher at Grigsby Junior High School and Leta Obermoller for the girls basketball team at North High School, as an extra-curricular assignment.

An alternate source of supply for library books to be from the Victor Hotho Co., American Publishers and Follett Library Book Co., was approved during the meeting.

Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, reported the three companies offer a reduction on the cost of books at times, as they specialize in publishers over prints, out of prints, and other such long-discount materials at the elementary level, and can provide books at less cost to the school district.

In special purchases, the board members approved buying 100 pounds of aluminum tubing at a cost of $288 from Metal Goods Division, Alcon Aluminum Corp., St. Louis. They also agreed to have an air conditioning compressor at Johnson School to be rebuilt at Meadows Machine in St. Louis for a cost not to exceed $1,200.

Emergency brick work at the pre-school building to cost $600 was approved by the board, with the recommendation that bids be accepted for a complete tuckpointing job, and installation of new lintels above all windows when time and weather permits.

The board members also granted temporary easement to Illinois Power Co. to construct, operate and maintain electrical lines and a utility pole with necessary equipment on the triangular property located across the street from McKinley School.

The permit is for a period of one to three years, at which time the equipment will be removed by the power company. At the present time the permit is requested by the power company to provide additional electrical service to St. Elizabeth Hospital and will be located where a tentative playground is to be constructed for McKinley School.

The entire area of the construction is to be fenced by the power company, it was noted.

STYLING HAIR. Charlotte Tucker of Granite City is a female barber doing her apprenticeship at the Whistle Stop Barber Shop in Glen Carbon. A freshman at SIUE, she works as a barber to help finance her schooling.

Enjoys her life as student—and barber

Men entering the Whistle Stop Barber Shop in Glen Carbon sometimes are surprised to find a lady barber. Charlotte Tucker, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, began barbering at the shop near Cottonwood Station in September.

She barbers to help pay her way through school. She works almost a full-time schedule at the shop (10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. three days a week) and is a full-time student at SIUE.

She received her training at Belleville Barber College. "It took almost a year to get a job because nobody liked the idea of a woman barber," Miss Tucker recalls.

"Most people are surprised but accept it real well."

"I specialize in cutting men's hair, but I also do women's. Right now, it is about half and half."

"I was going to work part-time, but it has been going so well, it is almost a full-time job

now. My appointments almost double every week."

About her schooling at SIUE, she said, "I really enjoy it. I like it better than anything I've experienced in quite a few years. I hadn't been to school in nine years, I would like a little more time to devote to my studies, though."

Why would a woman want to work in a male-dominated occupation? For her, it started years ago. "I liked working with hair, and as a child I also thought it would be a neat job. When I got older, I met a lot of barbers, and it just seemed like everyone I met was a barber."

She is serving as an apprentice until December 1979. After then, she will be free to do what she wants. "I can barber anywhere I want," she explained.

The apprentice period last two years and three months. She had to study the art of barbering for 1,872 hours in school before becoming an apprentice.

When she enrolled at the barber school, there were only four girls in the class of 16. By graduation time, the male to female ratio was about even, she said.

Wildflower seed placed on market

Two kinds of native wildflower seed released last year by the Soil Conservation Service are now available commercially. Kaneb Purple Prairieclover and Nekam Pilcher Sage seed are ready for distribution.

Kansas and Nebraska seed growers have produced crops for delivery to local dealers this month. Next year, Thickspike Gayfeather will be marketable, the seed crop takes two years to mature.

Foundation seed from plantings of these native forbs were offered to commercial growers last year. After several years of study the three releases have been prepared from observation and selection of trial plots at Soil Conservation Service plant materials centers.

Selections were chosen by the cooperation of state crop improvement associations, state experiment stations and the Agricultural Research Service. Now, commercial growers have the seed for increase and distribution.

Area seed dealers, nurserymen and garden store personnel are obtaining the two released seeds from their commercial sources.

Lake PTA plans Yule party

Plans for a Christmas party, a report on the Halloween party and an announcement of winners in a school candy sale contest were highlights of the November meeting of the Lake School Parent-Teachers Association at the school last night.

David Johnson, president, presided and welcomed those attending. Mrs. Faye Hester read the PTA Prayer. Mrs. Kathy Lane reported that the Halloween Carnival held Oct. 28 was successful, and Pat Withers of the Ways and Means Committee reported that the school's annual candy sale had ended with Vickie Snow as top salesman. She sold $402 worth of candy. In second place was Amy Seibert with $288 in sales; third place, Christine Mangaracino whose sales amounted to $259; and John Withers, fourth with $251 in sales.

An all-school assembly will be held on Dec. 5, at which time prizes will be awarded to these children and the many others who participated in the fund-raising event. Mrs. Linda Schmitt announced that the Board of Education has approved volleyball for parents, the first session to be held on Monday, Nov. 21. All parents were invited to participate.

Johnson raised the subject of a name sign which has been suggested by Lake PTA's executive board. He showed the membership a drawing of what the sign might look like and reported that he will check into finding someone who can make it. Mrs. Lane suggested that a "time capsule" might be included in the brickwork.

Work on the school's "junkyard playground" has been halted until a fence is erected between the playground and the new section of Maryville Road which runs alongside the school. The Christmas Program will be held on Dec. 30, Johnson said.

that Santa Claus will be in attendance and will be available for the children to have their pictures made with him. Parents may bring their own cameras, if they wish, or Mrs. Phyllis Warford will have a camera to make the pictures for a small fee.

Mrs. Beverly Williams, one of Lake's vocal music teachers, volunteered to prepare the fifth and sixth graders for a presentation of Christmas music, after which she will lead the audience in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. Lane will be making sound movies of all the evening's events, and plans are to show these movies at a future PTA meeting.

Mrs. Melba Mehlke announced that Lake's Cub Scouts have been re-organized. She made an appeal for women to serve as den mothers.

Mrs. Jean Zotti's second-grade class won the attendance banner, and Gonia won the evening's prize.

Mrs. Carla Greco, Safety chairman, introduced Miss Cindy Blackford of the American Cancer Society, who briefly outlined the services available through her organization. She then presented a film entitled "Let's Call it Quits" which featured Tom Boley and Marian Ross of "Happy Days" fame.

Following the film, refreshments were served by fifth-grade mothers.

Leslie J. Barnett weds Edward G. Stovall Jr.

The First Church of the Nazarene was the scene of the wedding on Oct. 22 of Miss Leslie J. Barnett, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Barnett, 3005 Yale Ave., and Edward G. Stovall, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Stovall of Duplo, Ill.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening was the Rev. William Roddy and the Rev. Edward Stovall, the groom's grandfather.

Ron Asbeck sang, "We May Never Love Like This Again" and "O Perfect Love" and Alan Bogovich sang, "Your Song."

Sam Lewis and Alan Bogovich played a flute and piano duet.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Barnett wore a long ivory organza gown, designed with a molded bodice, sunburst neckline and full bishop sleeves lavishly accented with Venice lace.

The lace trim was repeated on the natural waistline and encircled the hemline of the double circular skirt, which extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was edged in lace and secured to a Juliet cap.

Maid of honor was Nancy Vunovic, a cousin of the bride, and the bridesmaids included Becky Kendall, the bride's cousin, Kathy Stovall, a sister of the groom, and Mrs. Marcia Baran, the bride's sister.

They chose poppy color knit gowns featuring collars and long fitted sleeves. The softly gathered skirts fell from the high rise waistlines and were enhanced with self ties at each side of the waist.

Each attendant wore a Juliet cap to match their dresses.

The groom chose his brother, Tim Stovall, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Tom Stovall, an uncle of the groom, Terry Barrow, the bride's brother-in-law, Gregg Embick, Bill Burch and Steve Burch, cousins of the bride.

Candlelighters were Lynn Vunovic, a cousin of the bride and Deanna Blaylock.

The flower girl, Cathy Embick, another cousin of the bride, was dressed in a calico print frock in shades of brown, poppy and antique ivory, featuring an antique ivory eyelet pinafore.

Brett Barrow, a nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Patty Burch, a cousin of the bride, distributed rice packets, and Terri Stovall, a sister of the groom, attended the guest book.

MARRIED. Mrs. Edward G. Stovall Jr., the former Miss Leslie J. Barnett who was married at the First Church of the Nazarene. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Barnett, 3005 Yale Ave.

at a reception held at the Whole Life Center, in Granite City. Assisting were Deana Peterson and Donna Kopitsky, cousins of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was served at the church hall.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High Schools.

The bride also graduated from Pontbonne College and is currently a substitute teacher in Granite City. Her husband attended Belleville Area College and graduated from Control Data Institute. He is now employed by Cerro Copper, Saugat, Ill.

They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake.

Holiday events club topic

Christmas events were the topic of discussion by the Cloverview Garden Club at a meeting hosted by Mrs. Fred Orr.

President Mrs. Eldon Meikamp announced "Christmas Forever" is the theme of the District V Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. set for 2 p.m., on Dec. 3, at Immanuel United Church of Christ, Edgemont.

Members of the local club agreed to create a table setting, and floral arrangement entry using the theme of "Christmas By Candlelight"—a supper for two on Christmas Eve.

Mrs. John Jenkins and Mrs. William Bradley will assist Mrs. Emma Stafford, of hospitality chairman of the show, it was announced.

Other members will enter the horticulture division it was noted.

Mrs. Charles Gandoria reported the club's Christmas party will be held at 12:30 p.m., on Dec. 18, at Charlie's Restaurant, and will also feature a gift exchange.

"Is Sanitary Gardening Necessary" was the subject of the program given by Mrs. George Knapp. The club study on "Ways to Protect and Preserve Nature" was discussed by all the members.

Others attending the luncheon meeting were Mesdames Leo Roman, A. R. Koepfer, Richard Branding, John Lentz, Robert McCauley, Kenneth Brokaw, William Branding, and Richard Branding.

Roxana Church scene of Harris-Liley wedding

Miss Carol Liley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Onis Cavins, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, and Tom Harris, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Harris of Edwardsville, were married, on Aug. 27, at the Roxana Church of the Nazarene.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. was the Rev. William Roddy. Organist Mrs. Deloris Barker accompanied soloist Deborah Milton as she sang, "Sunrise, Sunset." "We've Only Just Begun," "Follow Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

For her wedding the bride chose a full length white organza gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sleeves accented with lace motifs.

The bouffant skirt was designed with tiers of organza and lace. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a lace headpiece.

Maid of honor Miss Lynette Whittington wore a formal length dress and jacket ensemble in dusty rose hue.

The bridesmaids, Miss Denise Cavins, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Rita Liley, a sister of the bride, selected identical gowns in yellow and pastel green.

Dawn Kynion and Timmy Roy, a niece and nephew of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a long white frock, enhanced with a blue trim.

The groom chose Darrell Cooper as best man. Dennis Mudd, Ronald Lauber and Chris Mudd, cousins of the groom, and Terry Cooper completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

REV. REIPSCHLAGER, RETIRED PASTOR, DIES

Word was received last week of the death of a former pastor of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, the Rev. William Reipschlager.

He and his wife, Pearl, resided at the manse on Moorland Drive until he retired and they moved to Butler, Mo., in February 1976.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stivers and children, Mark and Lisa, and Stanley White of Frankfort, Ky., returned to their home after visiting relatives here on Volga Place, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beldin.

The annual United Women's praise service was held Sunday during the worship service at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, followed by an all-church ham dinner sponsored by the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship.

Albert Weeks of Iowa was a visitor of Lois Weeks and other relatives in the Quad-Cities.

Reading program assembly topic

To encourage the students to participate in the Granite City School District's Independent Reading Program, an assembly was held at Marshall School, featuring a skit, that was written and presented by the sixth grade language arts class.

The skit involved two old story tellers who, in the process of telling the classic stories, Little Red Riding Hood, The Three Little Pigs, Three Billy Goats Gruff and Rudolph, The Red Nosed Reindeer, stopped before the end of the story because they had never bothered to read the ending. At that point in each skit, the "mean green story changer" enters and makes up an unlikely ending to the story. At the end of each skit the magic wizard appears and puts a spell on the mean green story changer and makes him read all the stories.

At the point in the skit all of the sixth grade language arts students read their own original poems based upon the theme "If You Read A Book".

The characters in the skits were as follows, Two Old Story Tellers, Kathy Kopsic and Marcia Wilson; Little Red Riding Hood, Tina Kaempfl; wolf, John Fink; grandmother, Sonya Bristol; mother, Dana Churchoch; mean green story changer, Christine Balhorn; The Three Little Pigs, Sherry Segedy, Steve Akeman and Keith Johnson; the wolf, Debbie Green; Three Billy Goats Gruff, Lori Barnes, Debbie Rutledge and Brad Gilbert; troll, Andy Boyer; Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer, Kathy Padgett; other reindeer, Little Bough, Belinda Bamper, Angela Ybarra and Dawn Cheatham; Santa Claus, Kim Smith; the wizard, Melanie Gray.

At the conclusion of the skit, Richard Ault, Marshall School principal, awarded certificates and ribbons in recognition of students who had read ten or more library books to this time.

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Granite City — Electronic hearing tests will be given at the new Beltone Hearing Aid Service branch office every Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at this branch office at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given every Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City. If you can't get there on Wednesday, call 976-6414 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

Canadian pastor to perform at local churches this week

The Rev. Harold Davis, of Paris, Ontario, Canada, internationally known for his portrayals of Biblical characters, will present the drama, "A Light in the Window", at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 22 at the Mitchell Assemblies of God Church, and at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 23, at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

The Rev. Davis will portray the apostle Paul as he is held prisoner in Rome. As the apostle Paul he is seen dictating the letter Ephesians to the church at Ephesus. He will quote the entire epistle with authentic props and ancient costumes. History is revived in a setting of can-delight within a Roman prison, according to the local pastors. Rev. Davis has been called "The Walking Bible" because of his ability to make the massive portions of memorized scriptures come alive. He is a gifted orator and a brilliant expositor and pulpiteer with over a quarter of a century of gospel preaching, but, in no medium does the dimension of his unique talents find fruition as they do in Bible drama, the ministers added.

The Rev. E.L. Aubuchon, pastor of the Mitchell Assemblies of God Church, invites the public to attend. The church is located on West Chain of Rocks Road, across from Sun and Fun Park.

The Rev. C. Dale Edwards is pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, Granite City.

THE REV. HAROLD DAVIS, left, of Paris, Ontario, Canada, and at right as he will be made up for his portrayals of Biblical characters at two local churches this week. He will present "A Light in the Window" and portray Apostle Paul at both the Mitchell Assemblies of God Church, Tuesday, and at the First Assembly of God Church, Granite City, Wednesday. Both performances will begin at 7 p.m.

'Y' member drive nearing conclusion

The Tri-City area YMCA fall membership campaign completed the first report meeting with over 30 new memberships from youth through senior citizen categories.

This year's campaign involves the entire YMCA membership, board of directors and staff in "telling the YMCA story."

Campaign Chairman John Blasingame has urged that this year's goal of 150 memberships be reached by the final meeting this Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., and encouraged local residents to become a part of the YMCA's growth.

"The YMCA has programs and activities for every member of the family and feature memberships at reduced rates Nov. 14-22."

"Individuals may contact any YMCA member, or the 'Y' at 876-7200 for complete membership information," Blasingame said.

Robbery victim hurt

John Napoli, 19, Wood River, was treated for scratches to the forehead at 11:20 p.m. Sunday after he was struck on the head during a fight with two armed robbers at the Class Service Station, Highway 111 and 62nd.

Two males wearing head scarves and blue jeans stopped at the station at 11:05 p.m. Sunday and ordered their car filled with gasoline.

While Napoli was filling the car, the pair came to the rear of the auto, one of them holding a knife. The attendant was told not to look back and one of the robbers allegedly told Napoli, "Don't worry I'm not going to cut you, I'm going to kill you."

Napoli reportedly tried to wrench the knife from the robber's hand. He then was knocked to the ground with a club.

A suspect vehicle has been found in Collinsville, according to police authorities.

The robbers took $42 in cash and $13 in gasoline.

Shot fired, 4 arrested

Granite City and Madison police have charged four persons in connection with an alleged assault and unlawful use of a weapon Wednesday night.

A 17-year-old Granite City man alleged a car stopped near him in West Granite City Wednesday night and a passenger aimed a gun at him and fired a shot. The bullet went through a wall and into a store.

The car, containing three persons, then sped from the scene. A car matching that description was stopped by Madison police who alleged finding liquor and a gun in the auto.

The driver, Charles D. Locke, 28, of 3002 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged in Madison with unlawful use of a weapon, driving on a revoked driver's license, reckless driving and illegal possession of alcohol in a car.

Granite City police charged him with aggravated assault and unlawful use of a weapon in connection with the shot fired near the 17-year-old.

Three passengers, William T. Overturf, 22, of 3002 Kirkpatrick Homes, Roger F. Murphy, 27, of 2303 Ohio Ave., and Cynthia Mueller, 22, of 4711 Kirkpatrick Homes, were charged by Madison police with unlawful use of a weapon and illegal possession of liquor in an auto.

Granite City police also charged Overturf and Murphy with unlawful use of a weapon.

Arrest three in theft case

Three youths were arrested at 3:50 a.m. today for allegedly stealing the newspaper vending machines from Sambo's Restaurant, 3895 Nameoki Road, and the International House of Pancakes, Pontoon and Nameoki roads, earlier today.

At 1:10 a.m. today, witnesses saw three youths remove the newspaper vending machines and coin box from the International House of Pancakes and leave in an old car.

At 1:30 a.m. today, customers at Sambo's saw a man walk in the front door, put his coat over the newspaper vending machine and walk away with the machine, newspapers and coin box. He left with two other youths in an auto matching the description of the one which left the pancake house. At 3:50 a.m., police saw a car matching that description driving past Sambo's and followed it to Fehling Road where it was stopped near the curve.

The occupants allegedly admitted taking the two machines and removing $47 from them before throwing the machines away.

One machine was recovered on Troy Street and the other was found on the levee. Charged with two counts of theft against each were William F. Hargrove, 19, of 4123 Gaslight Walk, Ponton Beach, and James T. Hileman, 19, of Rural Route One, Box 1264, Granite City.

A 16-year-old boy also was arrested in the auto and faces possible juvenile court action.

Sound waves detect health of body areas

Dr. Enrique Cubillo of St. Luke's Hospital-West was guest lecturer this month at a continuing education meeting of St. Elizabeth Hospital medical staff members.

Dr. Cubillo spoke on sonographic technology. Sonography is one of the newest diagnostic tools used in the imaging of body structures. It has been put to important usage in both the departments of radiology and cardiology, a spokesman said.

St. Elizabeth Hospital's ultrasound unit, which is considered particularly beneficial in obstetrics cases, has been in operation since late August. The echocardiographer has been in operation since July.

Both units use high-frequency sound waves generated through a piezoelectric transducer to pass through soft tissue until an interface between structures of different densities is reached.

Densities at the interface are reflected to the transducer and then amplified and displayed on a screen.

Authorities say the heart, liver, spleen, kidneys, pancreas, retroperitoneal structures, bladder and uterus can be delineated clearly. Pregnancies can be followed for fetal age, position and abnormalities in position or structure.

Other abnormalities in the abdominal or pelvic area, such as tumors and cysts, can be

Schuler heads FAUS policy committee

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has been elected president of the Policy Committee of the East St. Louis Urbanized Area, a regional organization of public officials that processes requests for grants under the Federal Aid to Urban System program.

Mayor Schuler was elected by acclamation during a meeting in Collinsville to consider the allocation of funds to a series of highway and street improvements in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties, the area embraced by the urbanized area.

The committee, made up of mayors or other representatives of 26 cities and villages in the three-county area, also elected Curtis Miller, mayor of Alorton, as vice-president.

Mayor Schuler succeeded Mayor Lewis Krause of Collinsville as president.

Approximately $2.4 million has been earmarked by the committee for allocation to Granite City to aid in construction of the proposed overpass between downtown Granite City and West Granite City.

The funds will be made available over a period of several years after the contracts for the project are awarded.

In Memoriam 33
In Loving Memory of My Husband
LOUIS (BUTCH) BOSKAY
November 22, 1974
I have lost my life's companion and I miss him very much. And every day I miss him more. As I walk through life alone. No one knows the silent heartaches. Only those who have lost can tell.

For the grief I bear in silence. For the one I loved so well. I never knew that hearts could be so close. With such a bitter pain. Longing for a vanishing face. To hear his voice again. I never knew that hearts could be so lonely and dim. But I have learned so many things. Because of losing him. If all the world were mine to give, I would give it all and more. To see him smiling through my door. Sadly missed by Wife and all those who loved him. 31 11 21
